

The Birthday of the King

Dr. Richard Overman

Overman Carol 2015

Robert Overman

1. So small He seems to earth - ly eyes, in swad-dling clothes dis -
2. The sac - red birth so long a - go seems hid be - hind the
3. He is the breath of ev - 'ry soul that sings Him wel - come
4. He comes to bear us all the way to glo - ry yet un -

4

played, held in His vir - gin moth - er's arms and in a man - ger years, its bright-ness sha - dowed by the strife which springs from mor - tal there, the Fath - er's hand stretched down from Heav'n, the source of ev - 'ry known, to re-gions far a - bove de - sire, where we be - come His laid. Yet He is Lord of Heav'n and earth, Who spread the stars a - fears. Yet in His hand the years re - pose, all gath - ered in - to prayer. He is the flame in ev - 'ry heart, con - sum - ing earth - ly own. So let us on this bless - ed morn our loud Ho - san - nas

8

The Birthday of the King

12 1, 2, 3.

bove, and sent an - gel - ic choirs to sing of His e - ter - nal love.
 one, and we are there in Beth - le - hem, with Christ - mas just be - gun.
 sins, and lead - ing us be - yond our - selves to where new life be - gins.
 sing! The day of days has come a - gain, the birth - day of the _____ 17 4.

King! Tis the birth - day, tis the birth - day, tis the birth - day of the _____ 22 rit.

King. _____